

Airam Press Co. LTD Celebrates 15 Years of Pneumatic Press Manufacturing in Ohio

By: Franchuk | July 15, 2020

This year, AIRAM Press Co. LTD, a leader in Made in the USA pneumatic presses from 3 to 400 tons, celebrates 15 years in Covington, Ohio.

In 2005, Fred Ratermann, President and Owner, moved the company from South Carolina, where it was established in 1965, to Covington, Ohio. Since the move to Ohio, AIRAM has made significant design changes to lower the vibration of the machines, reduce the noise factor, and enhance the cutting of high-strength steel for a cleaner cut that can be used in laser-welding applications without secondary operations.

During the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, AIRAM customers provided critical and essential products, supplies, and services to people all over the world. AIRAM Press remained open in order to serve businesses in critical infrastructure segments that use AIRAM Presses. Some examples include: Food and Beverage, Medical and Personal Care, Metal Roofing and Building Supplies, Logistics, and other essential businesses that needed to operate during these trying times.

From metal stamping, pre-punch, cut-to-length, scrap cutting, flying cut-offs, plastics, and paper packaging, the versatile AIRAM Press can manufacture a variety of parts from a wide range of materials.
